Affordable Solar Energy Customer No.

If you are reading this then no doubt you are already considering putting in a system yourself.

We are often reminded that "If it sounds too good to be true then more than likely that is exactly what it is-too good to be true."

We are all reminded that the scams on the internet offering you something for nothing and a return for a competition or draw you never even entered or a beneficiary from someone you have never heard of are the ones to avoid..BUT I must tell you that when you invite the sales consultant from Affordable Solar Energy into your home he/she will spend a lot of time going through all the details,facts and figures so that you can be in no doubt as to what it will cost-what you might get back in return and what the work will entail.

When the Surveyor comes to your home again he/she will go through everything again so you can be assured that you know exactly what you are getting into.

When the crew arrived to fit my system they worked without any bother to me at all-they knew exactly what they had to do and got on with it without any disruption at all. Warning me when the power was to be switched off so I could ensure there was no vital equipment left on etc. I could not believe how quickly they worked and when it was all done no trace of them being there apart from the new system in place.

The best part is to wander down and look at the electricity meter going backwards knowing that the electricity you are using at the time is costing you NOTHING and also you will be paid by the Electricity Company for what you are producing.

With interest rates as low as they are now and have been for some time this is a far better tax free return for you savings than anything legal that I know of,and you are doing your bit towards saving the planet if that is something you are keen to do!!

Yours sincerely,

Woodhams.
